1875 QUAKER DINING CHAIR

The elegant designed Quaker dining chair has clean lines and soft curved edges. The chair bow is steam bent from a single piece of ash shaped to give its subtle and elegant profile. Traditional wedge joints, fix the legs to the seat, a wedge is inserted into a cut, before the leg stump is sanded flush with the seat, to create a lovely design detail and a very strong joint. This Quaker chair is finished in your choice of lacquer and paint colours that protect the timber and can complement your decor. Also now availiable for added comfort is the quaker chair with an upholstered seat, fabrics can be chosen from the ercol and Universal collections.
