

SYL-0004 SYLVA SIDE TABLE

The Sylva side table is made from Grown in Britain (GiB) certified British ash. Its elegantly turned, elongated legs, and smooth, rounded shape create a tactile design, that fits effortlessly into both modern and traditional interiors. Produced in batches by students at Sylva Wood School, students gained valuable experience in professional practice and the standards of quality craftsmanship. Each side table is hand-finished in a white pigment oil, to protect the timber while allowing the natural colour from pale white to olive tones, to remain visible. This finish enhances both durability and character, making the piece a distinctive addition to the home. Due to the handcrafted nature and the natural material it's made from, no two side tables are ever the same. Every piece displays its own unique grain patterns, markings and colours - a definite statement piece. There are only 10 limited edition side tables available.
